

Why is the energy sector important in Bosnia & Herzegovina?

As one of Bosnia and Herzegovina's (BiH) most important export sectors, the energy sector has the potential to be a major engine for economic growth in BiH. The sector is also relevant for the country's accession to the EU, as development of competitive energy markets is required by the EU and the Energy Community Treaty.

Why should Bosnia and Herzegovina adopt the necp?

With the adoption of the NECP, Bosnia and Herzegovina should seek to improve the country's long-term resilience, advance its economic diversification and competitiveness, and to secure its energy supply and sovereignty by harvesting its natural renewable resources.

How does USAID help Bosnia and Herzegovina?

Through its Energy Policy Activity, USAID helps Bosnia and Herzegovina attract investment and integrate its energy market into regional and EU markets. As one of Bosnia and Herzegovina's (BiH) most important export sectors, the energy sector has the potential to be a major engine for economic growth in BiH.

Should Bosnia & Herzegovina cap energy consumption?

To boost energy efficiency and energy savings, it also needs to cap primary energy consumption at 6.5 Mtoe and final energy consumption at 4.34 Mtoe by 2030. In mid-2023 Bosnia and Herzegovina published a draft National Energy and Climate Plan.

Is Bosnia and Herzegovina a net exporter of electricity?

Bosnia and Herzegovina (BiH), a country of around 3.5 million people, is currently a net exporter of electricity—the only one in the Western Balkans. More than half of its electricity generation capacity is made up of hydropower, while the remainder is made up of five lignite power plants.

Will Bosnia and Herzegovina build a new hydropower plant?

As well as new coal capacity, Bosnia and Herzegovina plans a large amount of new hydropower, which is proving even more controversial than the coal plants. In the last decade, more than 100 small hydropower plants have been built, causing widespread public resistance in places like Fojnica, Krušica and on the Neretvica and Buna.
