Dalian, China-based vanadium flow battery (VFB) developer Rongke Power, has completed a 175MW/700MWh project, which they are calling the world's largest vanadium flow battery project. Located in Ushi, China, the project will provide various services to the grid, including grid forming, peak shaving, frequency regulation and renewable integration.

Flow batteries are long in lifespan, and convenient in assembly and expansion, while also capable of storing 1-20 hours of batteries. Chinese vanadium redox battery (VRB) supplier Rongke Power has now constructed the largest VRB energy storage plant in Liaoning, which is scheduled to commence operation starting from October.

VRFB developer and manufacturer Rongke Power supplied the battery technology. The company is a spin-off from the Dalian Institute of Chemical Physics of the Chinese Academy of Sciences and the institute has overseen the project through doctoral supervisor and head of its energy storage department Li Xianfeng.
