According to Baptist World Aid, 87% of Australians want to become more ethical in their fashion consumption - yet only 46% of people regularly purchase from ethical and sustainable brands. So why is there a 41% gap? We believe that education plays a big role. Sustainable fashion is still an emerging niche within the broader fashion industry that is dominated by fast fashion.

On Home Island, residents have established a museum dedicated to the Islands' former copra industry and an art gallery, The Big Barge Art Centre, which sells traditional artworks, modern paintings and photographic works and hosts art workshops for tourists.
